INV TELEGRAPH TO THE HERA	D.

Boston, Mass., Feb. 14, 1891.-Every person in this city interested in athletic sports attended the annual handicap meeting of the Boston Athletic Association, which came off to-night, the athletic association of the First regiment joining in the games. The moeting was held in the regimental armory on Irvington street. This new and handsome structure is in some respects superior to the hall in Mechanics' Building, where the meeting of last year was held. The floor space is fully as large and the arrangement of the course for the running races to-night was more advantageous than that of 1890, when some of the visiting athletes complained loudly of the sharp turns. There was no fault finding to-night. The building has accommodations for three thousand people, and before the sports were half over all the seats wers occupied.

Harvard got about all the glory of the evening Her big delegation of trained athletes carried everything before them. All the wearers of the crimson were in fine fettle and worked with "ginger" and grit. The New Yorkers were evidently not in the best of condition, for they seemed to weaken when they went up against the collegians. The handicapping, too, seemed to trouble the New York men considerably, and in some instances really disheartened them before the events began. Still the Harvard men were clearly entitled to the

HANVARD ATHLETES IN PRONT.

It was a quarter past eight o'clock when the sonorous voice of Fred Burns, the official announcer, proclaimed the first event, the seventy-five yards dash. This event was to all intents and purposes confined to Harvard men. Seventeen heats were necessary to accommodate the one hundred runners and fourteen of these were won by staiwart students. Remington, of the Manhattans, the seratch man, took his heat of course, but in the first heat of the second round he was left behind.

The one thousand yard run was quickly over,
only one heat being required. Roddy and Conneff, the Manhattan's scratch men, were unable to overcome the handicap and neither was placed. C. E.
Putnam, Chatham A.C., had the race at his disposal until the last lap, when he went to pieces, and Blake, of Harvard, wen. W. S. French, N.Y.A.C., finished third, and second place was won by E. W.
Pierson, Riverside A.C.

WALTER NICOLL FINISHES FOURTH.

The one mile walk drew out a long procession of ambitious men, with "Big" Nicoll, of the Manhattan Athletic Club, as scratch man. The cheering was tremendous as they spun around the track and as "large allowance" men were gradually overhauled, the big crowd became frenzed with excitament. Nicoll was in grand condition and walked in superb form. In spite of this, however, he could not travel fast enough to overtake some of the "sleepers" who had big handicaps. On the last lap everybody spurted, but the race had already been virtually decided. A. P. Jerome, Chatham
A.C.; A. L. Endicott, Harvard A.A., and S. C.
Brackett, Harvard A.A., Enished in the order named.
Nicoll was fourth.

Brackett, Harvard A.A., Intended in the order named.

TO FIGHT SENATOR FRYE'S BILL. FOREIGN VACHTS SHALL NOT BE TAXED IF THE

N.Y.Y.C. COMMITTER CAN HELP IT. At the last meeting of the New York Yacht Club the following committee was appointed to take action with reference to Senator Frye's bill regarding the taxation of foreign yachts:—James D. Smith, J. Pierpont Morgan, John S. Dickerson, J. R. Burk and Frank T. Robinson. Commodore Gerry, Vice Commodore E. D. Morgan and Rear Commodore W Butler Duncan are members ex officio. The committee met and elected ex-Commodore James D. Smith chairman. This gentleman sent the following letter to Senator Frye:-

Ing letter to Senator Frye:—

No. 23 Broan Street, New York, Feb. 9, 1891.

To Senator Frye, Washington, D. C.:—

Dian Sim-I have been appointed a member of a committee by the New York Yacht Club to look into the bill office of the New York Yacht Club to look into the bill office of the New York Yacht Club to look into the bill office of the New York Yacht Club to look into the bill office of the New York Yacht Club to look into the bill office of the New York Yacht Club to regarding foreign yachta, Among yachta fits likely to be reported this session, and if so whether you would not hear us before it is!

I will make only two suggestions to you.—

First—That yachts are built only for pleasure and cannot note any circumstances receive a deliar for carrying freight or passengers. Yachtsmen never receive any revenue. They always pay out money.

Second—Very few foreign yachts come to America. The notable foreign yacht clubs have heretofore challenged the New York Yacht Ulub to race for the America's Cup (won by the achoener yacht America in 1831), seven times. It has been held by us. Would it be fair to tax them of their yachts for coming to America to make an international race? The expense of any yacht owner in a foreign country, challenging, is enormous, in sailing to this country and making the race. They now complain tast we do not treat challenging; is enormous, in sailing to this country and making the race. They now complain tast we do not treat challenging is enormous, in sailing to this country and making the race. They now home the bill should become a law i fear they would think the luited States government was helping the New York Yacht Club te hold the America's Cup by making a law their would add largely to their expense in pursuit of pleasure and honer, if they won the cup, and thus reacht club.

If it is to be offered by the committee under you as

This is to be offered by the committee under you as chairman, can we have notice?
Yours truly,
JAMES D. SMITH. Here is the Senator's reply :-

Here is the Senator's reply:

Washington, D. C., Feb. 10, 1891.

Mr. Janes D. Smith, No. 23 Broad Street, New York:

My Dran Sin.—Yours of the 5th received. Being a born sportsman myself I naturally act very slowly in anything which affects sporting interests. I probably shall not report the bill touching yachts at this seasion. It is sufficiently clear to me, however, that something shall yeelts. I think the probably shall not report the bill touching yachts at this seasion. It is sufficiently than the probably of the probably of the probably of the probably of the property been brought yeelts. I think the probably the none where they have smiled across and been purchased here. They, in my ophion, should pay a duty in case of purchase. Where foreign yachts simply come to this country for the purpose of untering in races and are then returned I do not believe myself in any limitation.

If I conclude to bring the matter before the committee for consideration I will notify you.

I am, very truly.

Mr. James D. Smith says his committee will fight the bill tooth and nail.

The auxiliary steam yacht Catarina, which was wrecked in the Sound lest fall and was given up by her owner, Mr. E. D. Morgan, to the underwriters, will soon be affoat again almost as good as new. The syndicate which has purchased her is likely to make a fair profit on the speculation. She was exceptionally well constructed, and the battering on the rocks near Mattinecock Point did only superficial damage. She will be put on the market at an early date.

THEIR SALARIES SATISFACTORY.

CONNOR, BICHARDSON AND O'BOURKE SIGN WITH THE LOCAL BASEBALL CLUB.

VEN the most dormant baseball enthusiast must admit that the New York team next season will be stronger than ever before. This is due to the fact that nearly all the strongest players have already signed, three of them coming to terms yesterday. If any doubt had existed that Connor, Richardson and O'Rourke did not intend to sign with the local club on account of personal reasons, in which supposed iil feeling against certain players was uppermost, it was dispelled by the action of these three players when they had a conference with President John B. Day and E. B. Talcott yesterday afternoon. The utmost good feeling was shown by all and the players showed that they were willing to do the right thing. It did not take each very long to come to terms and sign a contract. All three returned home last night.

Danny Richardson, who has been keeping remarkably quiet for some time, had this to say before he was homeward bound:—"We will have a great team next season, providing everybody pulls together. I can see no reason why all the players will not. Our action last season hurt the game considerably, but I think the interest can be brought back again if all the players do their duty. We might as well sink all personnal feeling and go ahead and play ball for all we are worth." day. If any doubt had existed that Connor, Rich

NOTES OF THE DIAMOND. The Manhattan Athletic Club is trying to get the lease of the Polo Grounds. After the preliminary games in the spring it will probably get them.

A meeting of the New Yorks (limited) was held yesterday afterneon at Judge Eacon's office. Coionel McAlpin, E. B. Talcott, F. B. Robinson, James H. O'Rourke, Roger Conner, Danny Richardson and M. Slattery were present, The meeting was held for the purpose of devising some way to liquidate the dobts of the club, which at present is bankrupt. A full oxplanation was made as to what the club owes and who the creditors are. When that was learned all the stockholders refused point blank to stand any assessment or advance any money. Consequently the meeting was adjourned without there being devised any way out of the difficulty.

witnessed the exhibitions. The results were as follows:

The spening bout was in the one hundred and twenty pound class. The contastants were Thomas Moora, of the Union A.C., and J. Roach, of the Star A.C. Neither man knew how to box. At the call of time they realed at each other in hummer and tongs style and thamped away at a merry rate. Roach was much heavier than his opponent, but was very active. His agility saved him from getting many hard blows. In the first two rounds Roach followed his man all over the ring, ishaling on Moore's face and body. In the last round, although badly punished and rather groggy, Roach made a fine showing, out-pointing Moore threa to one. He got the decision.

The next bout was in the one hundred and ton pound class and between Jack Rourke, of the Waverly A.C., and Edward Sweeney of the Park A.C. Sweeney fought very well and countered accurately. In the first and second rounds Sweeney hit Rourke hard and often eved both and bloed flowed freely from his noise in several places. In the list round, however, Rourace surprised every bedy by forcing the fighting and inding several hard right hand swings on Sweeney's neck. His rally came too late, though, and Sweeney was declared the winner. The decision was received with mingted cheers and hisses.

The decision was received with mingled cheers and hisses.

The next bout brought together Sam Kelly, of the West Side A.C., and J. J. Tartar, of the Union A.C., two 110 pound men. Kelly thumped his opponent unmerifully, landing when and where he wanted. At the ond Tartar face looked like a chopping block, being covered with blood and hadly cut. Kelly was an easy winner.

W. Abrens, of the Star A.C., and J. Spies, of the Chinton, two one hundred and twenty pounders, then met. Abreus, who is a smart two hand boxer, hit Spies every time he tried and wen as he pleased.

The next bout was between Jack Skelly, of the National A.C., and S. Kellyman, of the Brooklyn A.C., and was a hot one. Kellerman thought he could defeat the National's champion and started to knock him out. The latter soon convinced Kellerman that he had uncertaken a tough job and landed several hard jabs on the Brooklyn man's neck and face. In the last round Skelly had his man very grougy and almost out. Skelly were easily.

SULLIVAN WRITES A LETTER,

The recent challenges from Frank Slavin, the Australian champion, to John L. Sullivan, backed by an offer of $10,000 for the contest by the Ormonde Club, of London, is looked upon as a bluff by Sullivan, who is at present making lots of money with Duncan B. Harrison. The big fellow expresses himself rather openly in the following letter, dated Hazleton, Pa., February 13:—

Henain's second annual champion bowling tournament will be opened. Everything is now in readi. ness, and all that is needed is that favorite cry of the umpire, "Game called!" The carpenters and decorators put their finishing touches to the alleys yesterday afternoon, and more cheerful alloys than those on which this tour-ney will be played cannot be found. The carpenter's plane has made the "strips" as true as a die. The greatest improvement of all is the addition of the three massive electric fans. which will continually keep down the temperature of the place. Extra precautions have also been taken to accommodate large crowds. The scating canacity of the alleys has been greatly increased. but under no consideration will any seats be reserved-"first come, first choice." All lovers of the national winter pastime are invited to attend.

THE OPENING GAMES. The games to-morrow evening will be started promptly at eight o'clock. Teams will practise thirty minutes previous to the hour scheduled for the game. The first contest will be between the Ivanhoe and Phoenix teams-two local organizations. This game is already exciting much local interest. The team losing it will then have to contend with the "big five" of the Roseville Athletic Club. This ought to prove a close struggle. The final game of the evening will be between the bowlers from the land of mosquitos and the team bowlers from the land of mosquitos and the team that carried of the opening game. On the whole the programme is a good one.

Throughout the whole city, be it east, north, south or west, some argument in reference to the big tournament is sure to be heard. In Brooklyn all the "cranks" have placed an unlimited amount of faith in the three clubs that hall from there. Across the Hudson and as far away as Newark the same state of affairs exists. Aithough Jersey Cityltes are even more enthusiastic over the fourney than the people in the suburbs, a contest that will surely tax the capacity of the ferryboats that play the Hudson to a severe extent is the one between the Palmas and Jorsey City athletic team. It takes place on March 16, If present reports go for anything, I think that but few bowlers will be tound in Jersey on that ove. The meeting of the three Brooklyn clubs will also bring many of the clubs' followers across the big Bridge.

ABBETT AND THE STRIKERS.

THEY PROMISE HIM TO PHEVENT VIOLENCE AS FAR AS POSSIBLE AT THE CLARK MILLS.

Governor Loon Abbett, accompanied by his son, Leon Abbett, Jr., who acts as his secretary, went to the Clark Thread Mills, at Kearny, N. J., yesterday morning to look into the strike troubles. He remained until late in the afternoon, but did not succeed in effecting a settlement, although his presence was the result of bringing the employers and the strikers closer together.

When the Governor first beheld the building in its wrecked and battered state he laughed, and then turned to Manager Adam Groel and extended his sympathy.

Mr. Groei sent word to W. Campbell and J. William Clark that the Governor had arrived, and those gentlemen rowed across the river from mill No. 1 to meet him. For nearly an hour a consultation was held, and Senator Howard, of Fall River, who was held, and Senator Howard, or Fall River, who had been in conference with the proprietors, went to the apinners' meeting at Union Mall, where he reported the result to the men in secret session. Senator and Congressman-ciect Edward F. McDonald and Sherif McPhilips, of sersey City, were sent for by Governor Abbett, and they took part in the consultation with the Messrs, Clark.

While the conference was going on a messenger entered and handed to Governor Abbett a letter which read as follows:—

which read as follows:—
Hon, Governor Leon Aument:—
Dear Size—We are very much pleased to loarn that you have come to Kearny to investigate the trouble between our late employers and ourselves, and we take this opportunity to inform you that we deeply deplore the attest what damage done to the mills and to assure you that not a single spinner, pleer or creeler took any part in the hostite demonstration or appeared on the scane. We therefore invite you to come and address us in easilon at Ball's Hall, Kearny, whete we now are, and do respectfully suggest that if you would appoint us as deputies, that we could guarantee that not one cent more damage will be done and that it will not coal the State anything. Respectfully.

deputized. He would go unarmed and preserve or der, Governor Abbett was received enthuniastically. He said he had been asked to call out the militia, but did not think it necessary, and merely came to kearny to find out the facts for himself. "I think," he continued, "there is no need for my interference or of any action on, my part at present. Sheriff McPhillips is able to take charge of the situation and I believe that you spinners will give him every assistance. There is no need of going beyond the county for a settlement of the trouble. The Governor explained before he left the spinners that the State knew no contract, but it compelled, would enforce the law to the letter. A vota of thanks was tendered to Governor Abbett, and he drove back with his party to the mills.

Sheriff acPhillips received the manes of the following who had been mentioned as deputies. William Perry, Daniel Lord, James Offer, St., Samuel Yates, Honry A. Woods, William Whittle, James Duffy, William Chuiffe, Patrick Donnelly, William Shepherd, Edward Collins and William Stewart, all striking spinners.

Although the Speriif, according to the strikers, promised to swear in these twelve men at three P. M., he did not make his appearance up to halfpast five, when the spinners went to their homes. They were very indigpant over the manner in which they have been treated.

At five o'clock thirly Jersey City policemen in full uniform, under Capitain Farrier and Sergeant McGinnes, arrived at the mill and are now on duty their. They were sont at Governor Abbett's re-quest and are acting as special deputies. They kopt the streets clear, and it was the first quiet night in the vicinity since Wednesday. Senator Howard had an interview with the Clarks during the afternoon, but was unable to effect a settlement of the dilikulty. He says it is the first time he has failed to bring about successful ad-justment of a labor troubic. He has returned to fail filver. The company still adheres to its original determination not to take back twelve of the locked out men, but will allow the others to re-turn.

the First regiment assembled at their armory last night in citizens dress and at a late hour were still in the building.
Culonel Campbell refused to say what was the object of the meeting. It was said that the regiment has been ordered to hold itself in readiness.

MINERS WORK AT THE SCALE,

eighty per cent of which is to be used for defence purposes. A number of resolutions were adopted calling upon the Legislatures of several States to pass laws in the interest and for the more extended protection of miners.

The question of a scale for lowa was referred to the Executive Board. The Convention did not reach the consideration of a scale to-day, and nothing in that regard has been agreed upon further than a general understanding as to the scale of prices to be adopted for indiana and illinois. The Convention will prepare two scales, one on the basis of screened coal and the other on the run of the mine, and they will be submitted to the joint convention of miners and operators in April.

WILL FIGHT IF THEY STRIKE.

BY TELEGRAPH TO THE HERALD. Prersbung, Pa., Feb. 14, 1891 .- The miners of Clearfield and Centre counties are preparing for a strike by arming. The agreement expires March 5, and should no new one be made bloodshed is feared. The miners are in an exceedingly bitter frame of mind. There are about eight thousand of them.

The Cloakmakers' Protective and Benevolent Association at a meeting at Pythagoras Hall, yester day, decided that their employes, now on a strike, should not run their shops and that they would remain on the defensive until their employes should see it to return to the shops they had left.

FOR THE ARION CARNIVAL.

The costumes of the four chief committees having the Arion masquerade ball in charge are of the handsomest description. The Committee of Arrangements, numbering thirty-two, will represent German Councillors (Burgomasters); the Floor Committee, numbering fifty-two, will be dressed as knights of Gascogne; the Lobby Committee, thirty-eight members, will represent Mexican nobles, and the Finance Committee, with thirty-two members, will appear as royal guardsmen of the sixteenth will appear as royal guardsmen of the sixteenth century.

The committees will execute a militery drill just before the grand procession takes place, subsequently forming a part of the parade with the military bands.

The declaration of independence will be represented in the precession in the following manner—On a big float Washington will stand holding the constitution of the United States, and at his feet will be Indians, Continental soldiers, a white and a black citizen of the Republic. The four corners of the float will typify the North, with fur and timber; the South, with cotton, tooneco, rice and whiskey: the East, with manutactures and navigation, and the Wost, with agriculture and mining. The coats of arms of the thirteen original States will ornament the sides of the float, which will be drawn by blues and grays. the operation of the primaries last night over previous years was that five men were elected from each election district instead of the single "captain" who usually "bossed" things to suit himself. In consequence of this change it will be difficult to foretell who will be the leader of the district until the organization of the Assembly districts, which takes place the latter part of the month. It was discovered in the Twelfth district, formerly presided over by Patrick Reenan, that a ticket was in the field with all of Keenan's friends on it. A new ticket was prepared and names submitted, but those in a position to know claim that you cannot find a democrat in the district who is not with either Keenan or the Voorhis democracy.
